

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A memory card includes a base plate on which IC chips are connected and a case is mounted to the base plate. At least one window is defined through the case so that at least one of the IC chips is accommodated in the window. A seal plate is 5 attached on the case and seals the at least one window.